PRICING GUIDE

meet your photographer

hi, i'm tunika!

I'm an independent filmmaker and photographer based in Toronto, Canada, currently studying at OCAD U. I specialize in short-form film production and conceptual photo series, but do a range of freelance projects and social media marketing as well as my own personal work.

My interest in visual and media practices started with my fascination with movies and storytelling growing up, and as an Integrated Media student I am able to explore a variety of methods of creating and storytelling through my art.

I use my photography to help you tell your story, and document it too. I have been doing photography for 5 years now and I'm constantly looking for new projects, and ways to work with new people. I like my photoshoots to be as much of a social experience as they are a creative one. I'm always interested in hearing your concept or idea for a shoot, so feel free to contact me with whatever you have in mind and let's make it happen!
